Hannan City has three ports – Ozaki Port, Nishitot-tori Fishing Port and Shimosho Fishing Port, where a wide variety of fish and shellfish are landed. Some say that it came to be called “Naniwa” (fish garden) because of the abundance of marine products. If you take a leisurely walk around a port, the refreshing sea breeze and sound of waves will soothe you.

An aerial photograph of Hannan, Japan, at sunset. The sun is a bright orange orb on the horizon, casting a long, shimmering reflection on the calm sea. The sky transitions from a deep orange near the horizon to a pale blue at the top. In the foreground, a multi-lane highway and a railway line run parallel to the coast. A train is visible on the tracks. The town of Hannan is nestled between the coast and the mountains, with its buildings and greenery visible. The overall scene is peaceful and picturesque.

In the glow of the sunset

You may think that the sunset looks the same everywhere. The sunset to the sea here in Hannan has a mysterious charm that attracts those who see it. The sunset seen from the artificial rocky beach of Sennan Satoumi Park and Pichipichi Beach, which has been selected as one of the 100 most beautiful sunsets in Japan, is especially exquisite.

Breathtaking views

Rows of Cherry Trees at Yamanakadani

A small station of the JR Hanwa line and a stone-paved road give charm to the Yamanakadani area. The place that usually has a tranquil atmosphere turns into a popular tourist spot dazzled with bright pink cherry blossoms in spring. The best time to view cherry blossoms is between late March and early April. Illuminated blossoms at night also look fantastic.

Autumn Festival where 20 floats are pulled around

“Yagura” floats feature two large wheels and magnificent carvings. At the autumn festival, these floats are pulled around the city, while swaying back and forth and around to the voices of the pullers. The Yagura parade where floats are gathered from different districts and the Miyaagari, where a float is run up the stone stairs of Hata Shrine without stopping, are especially overwhelming.

Autumn festival

Dates: The Health and Sports Day and the day before in October every year

* The Yagura parade is held on Sunday of the week before.
